

NC-005 Group 5 Emblem Meaning

The Group 5 emblem features a heraldic shield divided into white and red fields, symbolizing integrity, courage, and dedication to Civil Air Patrol's missions. A blue diagonal bend bearing six white stars represents unity among the units of Group 5 and reflects the progression, excellence, and leadership development emphasized within the Cadet Program.

A blue aircraft displayed in the position of honor signifies Civil Air Patrol's aviation heritage and its dual roles in Aerospace Education and Emergency Services. The aircraft's banked posture reflects readiness, agility, and initiative in mission execution.

The lower portion of the shield contains two blue waves outlined in white, representing Group 5's coastal and riverine operating environment and its frequent involvement in disaster response and emergency services. A gold border surrounds the shield, symbolizing excellence, honor, and the unified commitment of Group 5 members to serve their communities with distinction.
